32nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

As we begin the second week of November, plans are now being finalized for Thanksgiving. It is both a fun and festive celebration and a challenge at the same time. What holiday do we spend with Mom and Dad, and which one do we spend with our in-laws? What is everyone's favorite food, and will your favorite uncle or aunt be stopping by?

This year and every year following, I want to encourage you to thank God for everything. We do that already! But this year I want you to do something more. I want you to take the time to review the past year and send out at least 10 thank you notes—notes of real gratitude to people, friends, family, and colleagues that did that little extra thing just for you. That should be relatively right, but what about the nurse or doctor or dentist or physical therapist or your mail delivery person, or the person that drops off your packages, or the helpful person in the store? We all like to be shown appreciation and to be thanked, and I bet some of you have saved some of your more memorable notes. I remember one such note that came from a young priest that is nearby. It was simple; it said, "I am praying for you" and it was signed by him.

Throughout the years of my priesthood, I have referred back to this note many different times—just to remind myself that through the challenges and successes of my service to the people of God, I have one of my brothers in Christ praying for me.

So, let's take the opportunity that November gives us to give praise to God for everything and thank the people that have been so helpful. If you have children or grandchildren, get them involved also. Gratitude is a seed once sown that feeds the soul. My God be given Glory and praise, now and forever.

Lord, help us to remember the sacrifice of every man and woman in our armed forces, for their service meant a commitment to our country and to us. Let us celebrate their willingness to lay their lives down for their friends, the greatest act of love. (John 15:13)
